MacRame, Weaving, and Tapestry: Art in Fiber. Spencer. DEpas

Here is a book that provides, for the beginner, a thorough and clear explanation (with many photographs and line drawings) of the basic techniques of knotting (macrame), intertwining (weaving), and looping (tapestry) and explores a new craft form: textile art. Combining the methods that have proved successful in his classes with the ideas he has developed as an independent textile artist, Spencer Depas outlines projects that will help you master these techniques - singly and in combinations: unusual and beautiful belts, bracelets, pocketbooks, shopping bags, necklaces, headbands, etc. He then encourages you to move beyond the essentials of the craft to discover your own feeling for color, texture, form and lien - to explore textile art through such advanced endeavors as rugs, bedspreads, hammocks, and his own favorite creations - wall hangings.
